Police Probe Burglary At Giant Market

STROUDSBURG State Police are investigating a breaking and entering at the Giant Market, at the Stroudsburg Shopping Center, Route 611, sometime early yesterday morning.

The shopping center is located in Arlington Heights.

Trooper Alexander Kearn is investigating the burglary, and he reported that about 400 cartons of cigarettes were taken by the robbers, valued at approximately $1,000.

No other reports of stolen goods were made by police.

Hand Carts
Police said the bandits used the firm's own hand carts to wheel the cases of cigarettes to their own car or truck, which was parked to the rear of the store.

The burglars also attempted to break into the safe, but were unsuccessful, Kearn reported.

Entrance was gained by forcing a rear door with tools, sometime after closing Saturday night.

The investigation of the burglary, the second this year, will continue, Kearn reported.

Herter To Attend Chile Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter heads for Santiago, Chile, today for an inter-American foreign ministers conference called in search of soothing oil to pour on the troubled waters of the Caribbean.

Washington hoped the special high level gathering would at least foster an international climate of discouragement for would-be invaders among the Latin neighbors.

222 Known Dead In Floods On Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Flash floods from the heaviest rains in 62 years have visited a major disaster on Formosa. Formosans were stunned Sunday night by the latest official casualty figures — 222 known dead, 292 still missing and 226 injured.

President Chiang Kai-shek ordered the army to give all possible help to flood victims and instructed the Cabinet to take immediate measures for relief.

Rain was still falling in some areas of this Nationalist Chinese bastion and it was feared the death toll might run much higher.

Damage was estimated at millions of dollars.

The downpour which brought the disaster began Friday as Typhoon Ellen was bearing down on Japan. Downgraded to a tropical storm, Ellen swept out to the Pacific Sunday night after causing 10 deaths and leaving 10 persons injured and 4,000 homes flooded in the southern island of Kyushu.

The storm's velocity was a mere 44 miles an hour as it swept over Tokyo and the central island of Honshu where it did little damage.

Heavy rains also were reported in the Peiping area of Red China. Radio Peiping said 20 1/2 inches fell in the area in 37 days — nearly the normal annual rainfall — and that several million peasants were battling floods.

Red China reported no casualty figures, but said 260 villages were isolated by water, and a third of the farmland around Peiping flooded. At the same time 10 provinces in north and central China were reported suffering from a severe drought.

The intensity of Formosa's storm was illustrated by a rainfall of nearly 24 1/2 inches in 36 hours at Taichung, in the central part of the island. Water stood six feet deep in places.

Floods swept away roads, railway beds, and telephone and power lines and it was not until Sunday that reports from isolated communities began to add up to a major disaster.

The main north-south highway and railroad of the island were impassable for 70 or 80 miles.

Taipei itself was almost normal. Some low-lying streets were flooded Friday night, but damage was light.

Civil Rights Losing Fire As Issue
WASHINGTON (AP)—Civil rights appears to be losing some of its fire as a political issue for next year's presidential contest.

For the first time in years, the nation's governors held their annual conference last week at San Juan, Puerto Rico — where there are no color lines — with little more than a whisper of controversy about civil rights.

This sharp departure from side-line news conference brawls over the issue in recent years seemed to point to a new feeling among the governors that international tensions are more absorbing to the voters than a great many local issues.

While there was the usual talk about highway financing and such other domestic matters, almost every governor who raised his voice spoke at one time or another of his hopes for world peace and what he believes ought to be done to bring it about.

World Affairs
This preoccupation with world affairs obviously was heightened by the recent trip of nine governors to the Soviet Union, the conference's decision to invite Soviet officials to this country, and discussion of the forthcoming exchange of visits between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Submergence of the civil rights issue apparently was attributable in part to the absence from the San Juan conference of Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas.

Herter plans to stay three days or so at the Santiago conference opening Aug. 12.

How well the Santiago parley proceeds depends in part on Cuba, a focal point in Caribbean unrest. Word from Havana was awaited as to whether Cuba would attend — and whether Prime Minister Fidel Castro might decide to head his delegation.

Ike Plans New Agenda

European Tour To Open Day Earlier

GETTYSBURG (AP)—President Eisenhower will leave for Europe a day earlier than planned so he can start his series of talks with Western leaders in Bonn.

This means Eisenhower will leave by Boeing 707 jet late Aug. 26 and spend the following day conferring with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in the West German capital.

The new schedule was announced Sunday by presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty, who drove from Washington Sunday morning to the President's farm near here. Eisenhower is spending the weekend there.

Hagerty did not explain the reason for the shift in plans. Eisenhower has made it clear from the start that he would see Adenauer during his trip to Europe but there was no previous indication that he would visit Bonn.

Stopping Point
The addition of the West German capital as a stopping point was interpreted here as a move to placate the aged Adenauer. The Chancellor has expressed fear that concessions to the Soviet Union in trying to solve the German problem, particularly as it relates to Berlin, might be one result of the forthcoming exchange of visits between Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Hagerty made the announcement by reading to reporters this statement:

"Upon the invitation of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, President Eisenhower will pay an informal visit to Germany on Aug. 27.

"The President is looking forward to the opportunity to meet with the Chancellor to discuss with him current problems of interest to the United States and the federal republic.

"President Eisenhower plan to arrive in Bonn early in the morning of Aug. 27 and to spend the day there before leaving for London to begin his visit to the United Kingdom."

Conferences
Eisenhower, as a preliminary to Khrushchev's visit to the United States Sept. 15, already had arranged to confer with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in London and French President Charles de Gaulle in Paris.

Hagerty said Eisenhower will spend five days in London—from Aug. 28 to Sept. 1—and presumably will make a side trip to visit Queen Elizabeth II at Balmoral Castle in the Scottish Highlands.

Eisenhower will go to Paris Sept. 2 to remain there several days.

By moving up his departure for Europe, Eisenhower had to cancel plans to visit Chicago Aug. 27 for the formal opening of the Pan-American games. Hagerty said Eisenhower did so with regret.

After an overnight trip to Washington today to keep some appointments and meet with Republican congressional leaders Tuesday morning, Eisenhower will return to Gettysburg for a week or so to prepare for his European trip and to get in as much rest as possible.

Hoover Lists 'Work' As Secret For Health

NEW YORK (AP)—At 85, Herbert Hoover has one word for the secret of longevity and health: "Work."

"I have not retired," says the former president, who today will spend his birthday at his desk.

"Those who retire without some occupation spend their time talking about their ills and pills."

Hoover says he still has six jobs to do — ranging from writing a three-volume book to being of occasional service to his country.

Whatever his formula, only two former presidents lived as long as Hoover, James Madison died at 85, and John Adams at 90.

Ruddy-faced, white-haired, healthy and amiable, Hoover met the press in a pre-birthday news conference and discussed an array of topics, from Khrushchev's visit to Stengel's Yankees.

But he ruled out politics. He declined to express a preference between Vice President Richard M. Nixon and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the Republican presidential nomination.

"I am not going into politics at a birthday party," he said.

Hoover, one of a succession of presidents who refused to recognize the Soviet Union, reiterated his hope that the exchange of visits between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev would lead to a lessening of world tensions.

He added his voice to those of Eisenhower and Nixon in asking that the Soviet leader be treated well in this country.

Hoover suggested that the people not "expect too much" from the Eisenhower-Khrushchev exchange of visits but said "we all have hopes the President will be able to diminish the tensions in the world."

Hoover, who takes three secretaries with him even when he goes fishing, listed his six jobs as follows:

"Watching the dangers which surround our country and hoping to be of occasional service."

Writing—in longhand—three documented volumes under the title, "An American Epic," to show the American people have without repayment, furnished food and supplies that have saved the lives of nearly 1 1/2 billion people in the past 15 years.

Attending to the affairs of the Boys' Clubs of America — 526 clubs with 600,000 members, mostly in slum areas.

Building up the library on war, revolution and peace at Stanford University.

Serving as chairman or trustee for about a dozen institutions.

Attending baseball games.

Herbert Hoover

Flying from California to New York several days in advance of his birthday gave him a chance to attend as an "elder fan," the "Old Times Day" Saturday at Yankee Stadium.

What is wrong with Casey Stengel's Yankees that they have fallen so low in the league standings?

"I wouldn't want to express any criticism," he said. "They have the material and they can come back."

Firemen At Work
Firemen in Roseto were out pumping water from several business places and homes, and Bangor firemen had all available units and men on duty at Fifth and Pennsylvania Aves. until after 2 a.m. yesterday.

The cellar began filling at 9:55 p.m. Saturday and water continued rising steadily until the rains subsided about 1 a.m.

Several firemen were bowled over by the onslaught of water when they opened the main doors at Miller's Garage and torrents of water gushed into the street, taking off cans and auto accessories along.

The water had coursed to the rear traveling down from Eighth St. across allies and through back yards. The force of the water crushed the back door of Miller's and flooded cars parked on the garage's main floor. Damage was also inflicted in the office.

The basement of Michael Conallone's Eighth St. garage also was hard hit, but the water did not rise to the main show rooms and offices.

One home damaged in the last heavy rain July 13, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Berger, S. Third St. near Broadway, escaped the deluge Saturday night. In the other storm the home was undermined by the rampant waters.

In the Ackermanville area the water spilled over near the nine-hole golf course. Similar conditions existed in the Flocks-ville area and in North Bangor.

Moscow Lists Reason For Nixon Cheers
LONDON (AP)—Radio Moscow Sunday night broadcast a Polish explanation of why Vice President Richard M. Nixon got such a warm welcome on his visit to Poland last week.

The radio reported the Polish Communist party newspaper Trybuna Ludu—Tribune of the People—carried a letter under the heading: "What did we wish to express when greeting Mr. Nixon?"

The answer was that Nixon got an enthusiastic welcome from an estimated 250,000 Poles because they appreciated his expressions of peaceful intentions while he was in Moscow, the broadcast said.

It also reported that Communist officials in Warsaw had sent letters to Russian officials expressing appreciation of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to Poland last month.

Council To Hold Special Session Today

BANGOR—Thousands of dollars in water damage inflicted on scores of Bangor homes during Saturday night's heavy rain has prompted a special meeting of borough council for 8 p.m. today.

Quintus LaBar, burgess, ordered the emergency session to take action in alleviating the flooding conditions which have occurred three times this summer.

He also instructed Joseph Miller, borough supervisor, to have borough trucks haul away debris taken from basements yesterday by home owners.

Hardest hit again was the Fifth St. and Pennsylvania Ave. section, especially the Ray Miller garage, LaBar's Drug Store, Cole's Market, and several homes on both the north and south sides of Pennsylvania Ave.

In a similar flood in 1956 Miller suffered a heavy loss to his autos and equipment and sustained an even heavier loss Saturday night.

Other areas where basements were flooded were the 300 block of N. 8th St., parts of S. Third St. south of Market St. and along upper N. Main St. where the Roseto borough line joins with Bangor.

In that section gardens were ripped up when a small tributary of Martin's Creek, flowing down from Roseto, spilled over the road.

Weekend Rain Causes Little Damage In Monroe County

LAST WEEK'S COLD and dark skies finally let loose their rain on Monroe County Saturday night.

A steady torrent added up to .95 inches of water in Stroudsburg and .92 at Mount Pocono. An estimated three inches fell in Wind Gap.

The United States Weather Bureau at Allentown-Bethlehem-Easton Airport reported a rainfall of 1.35 inches over the weekend.

Another .15 inches in Stroudsburg yesterday brought the weekend's total here to well over an inch.

However, little or no damage was reported in this area. With the exception of one or two reported power failures, phone and electric service was maintained throughout the downpour. Road construction near Wind Gap was turned to mud.

Jittery Cuba Questions Many Conspiracy Suspects

HAVANA (AP)—A jittery rebel government Sunday pressed a roundup of conspiracy suspects. One official source said up to 200 men—military and civilian—had been detained for questioning.

While the dragnet reached into various parts of Cuba, sources at the presidential palace described as absurd a rumor that the arrests reached a figure near 1,000.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime officially denied there had been hostile landings anywhere on Cuban territory.

Reports Circulate
Despite denials by Raul Castro, the Premier's brother and commander in chief of the Cuban armed forces, reports continued to circulate in Havana that anti-Castro forces from the Dominican Republic made two attempts to land on the Isle of Pines of the southwest coast of Cuba.

These reports said a boatload of raiders attempted to land Friday night and two plane-loads of men hostile to Castro's regime tried to attack the Isle of Pines early Saturday.

The objective of both attempts, these reports said, was to free former Batista air force pilots imprisoned on the Isle of Pines and incorporate them into anti-Castro forces reported in training in the Dominican Republic.

The unconfirmed accounts said Castro forces on the Isle of Pines smashed both attempts and captured a number of prisoners.

Domestic trouble, however, was obvious.

Official Sources
Official sources said Castro forces under Maj. Eloy Gutierrez battled with an armed band of undetermined size near a sugar mill at Cienfuegos, 130 miles east of Havana, killing two and arresting 15. Army casualties, if any, were not revealed.

Gunmen fired several shots from a speeding car Saturday night at Castro's villa in suburban Cojimar, and escaped despite police roadblocks.

General To Receive Medal

HARRISBURG (AP)—Major Gen. Herbert John Vander Heide, commander of the 21st Army Corps at Indianapolis Gap, Monday will receive the Pennsylvania Distinguished Service Medal, the highest honor this state can bestow.

The 56-year-old West Point graduate is being honored "for inestimable service over the years to the people of the commonwealth."

Meantime, House Speaker, H. G. Andrews (D—Cambria) called on labor leaders to reveal what ideas they have for raising additional revenue.

Labor's big four—Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, State CIO, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and United Mine Workers—opposed the sales tax increase. They said they had alternate plans, still unannounced, for raising more money when the sales tax came to a vote in the House.

Passage of the sales tax legislation has been considered a certainty in the Republican-controlled senate.

George I. Bloom, GOP state chairman predicted over the weekend it would win approval but he hinted strongly that a hitch could develop if Democrats waver in supporting the measure.

Bonus Discussion
HARRISBURG (AP)—Payment of the state bonus to veterans of the Korean conflict will be discussed at a conference here Aug. 20 of veterans' affairs directors of the 67 counties.

Steel Strike At Glance
By The Associated Press
IDLE — some 500,000 striking United Steelworkers and about 107,000 workers in allied industries as strike goes into its 27th day.

Negotiations—Joint negotiations between the USW and industry resumes in New York Monday with USW President David J. McDonald and USW general counsel, Arthur J. Goldberg, absent. Both have decided they can be more useful elsewhere in other union matters. I. W. Abel, union secretary-treasurer, and Howard Hague, vice president, will take their place. There is still no reported progress toward a settlement.

Losses—The industry continues to lose some 300 million dollars worth of business each week. Idle workers lose some 70 million dollars in pay week.

Picket activity—Picket action continues to remain quiet. USW sources say McDonald will tour picket lines in Pittsburgh today or Tuesday.

Issues—Union wants 15-cent an hour wage boost and other benefits. Industry says added labor costs would result in inflationary rise in steel prices. Industry wants a one-year wage freeze.

Steelworkers seek a 15-cent hourly wage raise plus fringe benefits. The industry has proposed a wage-price freeze for at least one year as an antinflation precaution. The union contends that the industry can grant a pay hike out of profits without increasing the price of steel. Prestrike wages averaged $3.10 an hour.

How to deal with your tensions

If your tensions sometimes make you worried or irritable or upset, you're not alone!

In today's complex world, nearly all of us have minor emotional problems from time to time. And at present one out of every ten Americans has a problem so serious he or she needs medical attention. For these people, modern treatment offers great hope for complete recovery.

As for the rest of us, our problems don't need medical attention, but they do keep us from enjoying life as much as we should. They do make us, and those around us, unhappy much of the time.

To help each of us learn how to control our own tensions, a prominent psychiatrist has written a booklet called "How To Deal With Your Tensions". In it, he lists a number of proven suggestions that can help you keep your tensions from getting the best of you, and thus live a happier, fuller life.

Studying Stock Market

By William A. Doyle
Investment Analyst

Q. I would like to know if there are any study courses where a beginner can learn the basic functions of the stock market.

A. Yes, there are many. And because so many of those courses will be getting underway next month, this is a good time to write about them.

Courses for beginning investors are run at adult education programs all over the country. They are sponsored by school boards, colleges, civic groups, church and fraternal clubs and many other organizations.

Besides these, quite a few brokerage firms offer courses that are open to the public—either free or at a small charge.

The biggest effort in this direction is made by the Investors' Information Program of the New York Stock Exchange. The exchange, through its staff and member firms, provides literally thousands of speakers for hundreds of lecture courses, plus all kinds of study material.

Announcements about the various courses will start appearing in the paper soon. If you miss the announcements, you can contact your local school board, find out what courses the board is sponsoring or know about.

If the school board isn't helpful, telephone or write the nearest office of any member firm of the New York Stock Exchange. But don't wait too long. These basic investment courses are becoming very popular. Unless you register early, there may not be room for you.

And finally, if you belong to an organization whose members want to have such a course, you can write directly to the New York Stock Exchange.

change, 11 Wall Street, New York, N.Y. The Investors' Information Program will set the whole thing up for you in short order.

Q. About five years ago, I bought stock in Micro Moisture Controls and Appel Petroleum. I am interested in getting rid of these stocks. I took them to the office of a large brokerage firm and was told that the firm couldn't help me sell them. How can I sell the stock? Why wouldn't the big brokerage firm help me?

A. The big brokerage house probably felt that it couldn't find a buyer for the stock. In that case, you should have asked for a written statement that there was "no valid bid" for the stocks on that date.

With that statement, you would be able to establish a loss for income-tax purposes.

Now, it is possible to get a quotation of sorts on both of those stocks in the over-the-counter market, where stocks not listed on regulated securities exchanges are traded.

The "Pink Sheets" of the National Quotation Bureau show that one broker is quoting Micro Moisture at "one-half cent bid, one and one-half cent asked." However, the broker who is "making the market" in that stock admits these are "graveyard prices."

For Appel Petroleum, the "Pink Sheets" list another broker as bidding 12½ cents a share. That broker states frankly that he is acting for a buyer. The broker is not "making a market" in the true sense of the word.

So, if the big brokerage house didn't consider these to be valid bids for the stock, it seems that about all you will get will be a tax loss and a lesson not to fool around with low-priced cats and dogs.

Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.

DPI Declines To Take Part In Wayne School Problem

Board Asked To Meet With Citizens

NEWFOUNDLAND—The Department of Public Instruction recently declined to take a stand in the controversy over inclusion of the Lehigh Township School District in the new Southern Wayne Joint School District, Newfoundland, claiming that the dispute was a local matter.

At a conference in Harrisburg of leaders of rival factions, DPI refused to take a side and recommended that the Lehigh Township School Board schedule another meeting with a citizens committee opposing the jointure.

It was indicated that such a meeting would be arranged within a week and that if an agreement was not reached at that time, court action would be taken. In this case a claim would be made that the board exceeded its authority or discretion in entering into the jointure.

Recommendation
Attorney Emmanuel Laster and Attorney William J. McDonald, appearing as legal counsel for the citizens group, stated that the DPI decision on the dispute as a "local matter" was challenged since that agency had had to approve the jointure. It was also claimed that not all the facts were "squarely presented" to DPI at the time the jointure was submitted.

After listening to arguments for and against the jointure, Roy Cleaver, acting director of the Bureau of School District Organization for DPI, recommended that the Lehigh Board attempt to settle the dispute with taxpayers.

Paul Ryder, superintendent of Wayne County Schools, and his assistant Edward Jenkins, cited benefits represented by the jointure.

Those opposed to the inclusion of Lehigh in the jointure declared their preference of affiliation with the North Pocono Jointure covering districts in the East of the Mountain area. Higher costs, alleged sub-standard facilities, excessive travel for children, inadequate curriculum were claims made against the present jointure.

A petition carrying 225 signatures expressed opposition to the Southern Wayne affiliation and support for the North Pocono connection.

Laster said that the citizens group will have to make the final decision as to court action if the Board fails to resolve the issue.

Formerly the Lehigh Township Board voted 3-2 in favor of the East of the Mountain Joint District in Lackawanna County. However, the Wayne County Board was unanimous in rejection of a request for such a transfer.

The resignation of the directors who voted for the Lackawanna County affiliation then followed and their replacements voted unanimously in favor of the Southern Wayne merger.

Cub Pack Of Barrett Holds Outing

CANADENSIS — Cub Pack 89 of Barrett held their July Pack Meeting at Pardee's Beach Club on the Delaware River recently.

Cubs, leaders, parents, and guests met at their Roundabout, the Mountainhome Methodist Church at 12 noon with family, food for two meals, swimming trunks, beach balls, soft balls, bats, etc. No weapons were allowed.

It was suggested that all try out Lee Shoenst's new outdoor charcoal grill and have charcoal or chared, cold hot dogs and hamburgers for their meals.

Admission was "On the Treasury" and a day of sunning, swimming, and eating was climaxed by a sudden gusty squall that cleared Pardee's Beach in about five minutes, which proves that scouts are always prepared and can evacuate quickly in an emergency.

Present

Cubbers who joined in the outing were as follows: John, Jill, Jay, and Captain and Mrs. James Holmes, Doug, Jill, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shoenst, John and Mr. and Mrs. John Styk, Karl and a Chipper Locker, Robbie and Lennie, and Mrs. Roebing Gravel, Allen, Ronnie, Virginia, and Mr. and Mrs. George Kocher, Mara, Brad, and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Shoenst, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Mitchell, Timmie, Tiger, and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Wicks, Jerry, Johnnie, Kennie and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gino, Ronnie, Ray, Richie, and Mrs. Bea Jones, and John and Mrs. Elnora McCoy.

The trip was made possible because of the cake sale in June, held for the purpose of expanding the treasury for Educational and Fun meetings. This summer, Captain James Holmes, Cubmaster, and Lee Shoenst, chairman of the committee were the leaders.

Performance Presented By Workshop

THE Theatre Workshop of the Pocono Art Center last night staged its first performance, "Don't Feed The Animals", a farce-satire by Bob Wellington.

It is a quick glimpse of a man's dream that he is the last man on earth. At first a curiosity in a zoo, he soon becomes the dispute among numerous women who find him quite attractive.

Leading Role

Don Susich plays the leading role with Jim Williams as his butler. Libby Hartman is the cage keeper of his dream with whom he falls in love.

Other players are Grace Butz, Candy Kohn, Robyn Roth, Pat Diehl, Rickie Fuller and Ruth Anderson.

For many of the actors it was their first attempt on stage. David Burns, well known Broadway actor and comedian, commended the efforts of the actors and thought it a fine production for persons of their experience.

Chapel Dedicated At Signal Depot Over $1,000

TOBYHANNA — A new chapel here at the Army Signal Corps Depot was dedicated yesterday morning.

At 9:30, Depot Commander Col. Clifford A. Poutre snipped the ribbon, officially opening the chapel which will serve personnel of all faiths.

Witnessing the ceremony were Chief Signal Officer Maj. Gen. Ralph T. Nelson and Mrs. Nelson, General Nelson, who was honored at a reception and buffet dinner in the depot cafeteria Saturday night, will be at the depot again today for a tour of the installation. Also on hand for the chapel dedication were Maj. Gen. Herbert L. Scofield, of the Chief Signal Office, Washington, D.C.; Chaplain (Col.) Harold F. Donovan, of the Second United States Army, Fort Meade, Md., and area chaplains representing Protestant, Catholic and Hebrew faiths.

Invocation was given by Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Richard F. Grady, of the University of Scranton. It was followed by a solo, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought", sung by Maj. Frank Scaplen, of the depot staff.

Chaplain Donovan made the dedicatory address, in which he urged that "we recognize Almighty God in our daily lives." The best place to do that, he said, was in a "fit place of worship."

Dedicatory prayers were then given by chaplains of all faiths.

Depot Chaplain (Capt.) Francis P. Patterson represented the Protestant faith, Chaplain Grady, the Catholic faith, and Chaplain (Capt.) Simon H. Shoop of Temple Israel, Scranton, the Hebrew faith.

Mrs. John Flannely, Scranton, accompanied at the organ by her sister, Mrs. Louis De Paul, Mount Pocono, sang "Bless This House," after which Col. Poutre presented the dedicatory plaque to Chaplain Patterson.

Singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" climaxed the program. Benediction was given by Chaplain Shoop.

Late Arriving Customer May Have Been Routine—Except For Lack Of Clothes

ALBERT PERRY, 26, of Easton, would have been just another patron at Cider Inn at 12:15 a.m. Sunday, with the exception of the fact that he was wearing no clothes. East Stroudsburg Police reported yesterday, Cider Inn had closed its doors for the day. Perry created quite a sensation.

Police said they received the report Perry was attempting to enter the establishment without clothes and hastened to rectify the matter.

Perry will be given a hearing on drunk and disorderly conduct tonight before Justice of the Peace Marshall Neyhart, and posted a bond of $38 against the hearing.

It was later reported to police Perry's clothes were found at Stokes Mill early yesterday morning.

Auto, Truck Accident Occurs On Route 611 At Bartonsville Check Being Made On 'Machines'

BARTONSVILLE — There were no injuries in a car-truck accident on Route 611, here near the Drive-In Theater early Saturday morning, Stroudsburg State Police reported.

State Police reported a station wagon, driven by Clifford Simpson, Tannersville, sideswiped an Onida Freight Co. truck, driven by Willard Howey, of Scranton, went through a guard rail and struck a utility pole.

Medical Check

While there were no injuries, Mrs. Ellen Simpson, an expectant mother, reported to police she would be examined by her family physician.

Total damage to the vehicles, pole and guard rail was estimated at about $4,000 by police.

The investigation will be continued.

Thirty Days

While amusement device operators have 30 days in which to secure a $10 stamp, he said, operators of gaming devices must have a $250 stamp before the machine can be used.

He defined a gaming device as any multiple coin machine into which players can put another coin for better odds or another ball.

Formerly Internal Revenue Service men had to find machines in the act of paying off before classifying them as gaming devices, he said.

Lapse Of Memory Proves Costly

MARTIN A. Altomere, 22, of Brodheadsville, gave East Stroudsburg Police a bit of a hard time before they managed to catch up with him, police officials reported yesterday.

On Wednesday, July 29, at 8:15 p.m., police received reports that a convertible auto was racing with a second, unidentified car on Spangenberg and Mary Sts.

Investigating the matter, police stopped the Altomere car, but Martin reported to the officers it was his brother who was driving the car at the time mentioned.

Police called in Martin's brother for a hearing, but found that it really was Martin doing the driving.

When they finally caught up to Martin Saturday he paid a total of $15 in fines and costs for his lapse of memory in forgetting who was driving.

Final approval of legislation raising Pennsylvania's sales tax to four percent is expected within two weeks.

The State Senate, composed of 28 Republicans and 22 Democrats, will return from recess to take up the measure today. GOP leaders have pledged the four votes necessary to pass the House-approved bill, provided all 22 Democratic senators vote for it.

Barring a walkout such as occurred last month in the House, or some of the other uncertainties of political maneuvering, the outlook for passage appears generally favorable.

The House sanctioned the measure last week, 116-85, after being frustrated several times, the latest coming as the result of Bill Green's Philadelphia Democratic bloc withholding its support in the hopes of forcing a deal on appropriations for the Quaker City.

Increasing the sales tax from three and one-half to four percent and extending it to sales of other articles will raise an estimated $148,500,000 in additional revenue toward meeting Gov. David Lawrence's record budget.

If the Senate votes the measure and the Governor signs it into law, as he has indicated he will, Pennsylvania will have bought itself one of the highest sales tax rates in the nation.

It can't be regarded as a bargain. Not unless you consider that it speeds the day when the Legislature quits Harrisburg for home.

After its five-months' performance, most people should have concluded that it just wasn't a year for bargains, anyway.

Opinions Of Other Editors

A Need For Some Anger

In announcing his opposition to any attempts to strengthen by amendment the labor bill approved by the House Education and Labor Committee Speaker Sam Rayburn remarked: "I have said many, many times that legislation shouldn't be passed to punish somebody in heat of anger."

Sound advice, generally speaking. But it isn't very appropriate in this case. For one thing, we haven't noticed any disposition on the part of Congress to punish anybody in any mood of hurried anger. In fact, there has been no major labor legislation passed by Congress in more than a decade.

Congress has been so deliberate in its consideration of labor laws that it's fairer to accuse it of timidity around the labor question than to accuse it of being impetuous.

Indeed, Congress has been so reluctant to do much about making the nation's basic labor law a little less the playground for dictatorial and acquisitive labor leaders that President Eisenhower found it necessary Thursday night to make an appeal to the country.

The President told the nation about some of the practices that have to be curbed; but what he talked about every Congressman in Washington already knows.

The McClellan committee, for example, has been holding hearings for about two years on union misdoings and just recently issued a devastating round-up of the testimony by and about James R. Hoffa, the Teamsters' chief.

Hoffa, the McClellan report reminded Congress, dealt with gangsters, repressed members, rigged elections and sold out his union to employers. "If Hoffa remains unchecked he will successfully destroy the decent labor movement in the U.S."

To the report, Senator McClellan added a plea directly contradictory to Mr. Rayburn's suggestion that the weak House Education and Labor Committee bill go through Congress unchanged. "I hope," the Senator said, "the House will pass the kind of bill necessary to remedy the conditions."

And what was Mr. Hoffa's reply to the Senate Committee for its latest criticism? "To hell with them."

Now, brazen as Mr. Hoffa is in his attitude toward the Senators and the public, he wouldn't have been likely to make a remark like that if he feared that Congress might punish him; that kind of talk would only make angry men angrier.

The fact is Mr. Hoffa doesn't fear Congress very much at all and his retort only shows the extent of his contempt.

But if Mr. Hoffa is so arrogant as to fancy himself beyond the reach of Congress, it follows that he also fancies himself above the public and the public's laws. So maybe it's time for a little anger in Congress.

Not, of course, spur-of-the-moment anger rooted in vengeance aimed at James R. Hoffa — for Hoffa himself is only a product of the great powers Congress has granted all unions, a power rooted in the exemption Congress gave the unions from the laws that everybody else must answer to.

The kind of anger we have in mind is the kind of cold and considered anger that insists on remedying injustice and rectifying wrongs that hit the public like a runaway 10-ton truck. And it wouldn't be a bad idea for Mr. Rayburn to permit himself a little of that sort of anger.

The Pennsylvania Story

Positive Approach

By Mason Denison

Harrisburg — Several weeks ago this column noted that a new spokesman for the so-called church group apparently was emerging in the form of Rev. William Vaughn Ischle, Jr., rector of an Episcopal church in Philadelphia.

Father Ischle has been most prominent in the church-backed campaign to provide tax relief on rectories and convents "actually owned by churches and synagogues." Interestingly, a bill along these lines was introduced in the House by Mrs. Mary Varallo (D-Phila.), a close personal friend of Father Ischle's.

Co-sponsoring the bill with Mrs. Varallo is Mrs. Marion L. Munley (D-Lackawanna). Putting two and two together on this bill one gets a significant total.

At the same time, the absence of Rev. Melvin M. Forney, executive secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, on the matter of revising Pennsylvania's Blue Laws, has resulted in a number of raised eyebrows.

Veteran Capital Hill observers point to an interesting "coincidence." They claim that Dr. Forney is extremely active against liberalizing the liquor laws and permitting horse racing.

Coincidentally this activity coincides with the interests of the out-of-state night clubs and race tracks. It is common knowledge that these entertainment spots derive a large percentage of their business from Pennsylvanians who are forced to cross state lines for their favorite form of relaxation.

In an Alliance News Letter which he edits, Mr. Forney seemingly couldn't make up his mind on whether or not he favored a proposed study by the Joint State Government Commission on the Blue Laws.

Nor has Dr. Forney seen fit to comment on the activities of Bucks County Justice of the Peace Earl B. Dougherty. It will be recalled that the Bucks squire, in what he describes as an attempt to show how outmoded the Blue Laws are, has been enforcing them to the letter.

This resulted in a wave of bad publicity nationwide for Pennsylvania but still no minister has come forth to defend Dougherty for his "courage" to continue in the face of all these protests.

This is what Dr. Forney had to say in his newsletter about the Senate request for a Joint State Government Commission study of the Blue Laws:

"The Senate requested the survey so that a constructive view of the Sunday laws may be possible. This group, however, could be extremely dangerous to the church forces. It could also be a blessing. It can be dangerous if the survey suggests to the new Legislature the abolition of all Sunday laws."

Yet in the current battle to increase the fines on certain stores operating on Sundays, Dr. Forney seemingly evaded the issue.

With all the pressure the discount houses, cut-rate drug chains and others put on the Legislature, it is an acknowledged fact that the bill would have been defeated if the large department store interest hadn't stepped in to prevent commercialism on Sundays.

Meanwhile, Father Ischle's approach to the state Legislature has been on the positive, rather than the negative side.

Instead of striking a political attitude of "anti," the young, likeable Philadelphia apparently is working hard to see what he can do for the churches and people of all denominations in Pennsylvania.

Future developments should be of interest throughout the state.

DEAR MR. EDITOR:

Pedestrian Ignored

Dear M. Editor:

Today I read the "Dear Mr. Editor" column. Hal has his troubles with the detours in the Poconos?

My blood boils everytime I have to go from East Stroudsburg to Stroudsburg. I have a 13 month old baby whom I must transport in a baby stroller. I'm not wary about voicing annoyance on this matter because I know there are other mothers who feel the same way.

To get from Washington St. to the bridge is no problem at all, but, after crossing the bridge it's nearly impossible for me to push my baby from the bridge to a sidewalk. I don't think I have to explain what I mean because I am sure anyone else who cannot afford to hire taxis knows what an irksome thing this is.

There is absolutely no sidewalk or any other kind of pedestrian walk provided by contractors.

Everytime I go to Stroudsburg, I swear I'm going to call Harrisburg about this situation but, in spite of all they say about this wonderful government of ours being for the people, I know I would just be wasting my money and time.

Now I ask you citizens of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg, don't you think that our councils should take enough interest to stir up a little action on this matter? At least they could ask. If they have asked and been promised, I apologize.

But, if they've asked and been ignored, I feel it's up to them, regardless of how little time is supposed to be left before the bridge is completed, to contact Harrisburg; certainly the Department of Highways or whatever or whom-ever you would contact about this matter, would listen to them.

Of course we all breathed a sigh of relief when we saw that the bridge was finally being built after almost four years, but I don't think that we as citizens of Pennsylvania should let them overlook a pedestrian walks as in Pennsylvania, the pedestrian has the right of way.

NEGLECTED PEDESTRIAN

Prayer Rug

George Sokolsky Says ...

Hoover At 85

There have been plenty of changes in this world since 1874 when on August 10, Herbert Hoover was born in an Iowa village called West Branch. His parents were Quakers; his father a blacksmith, his mother a seamstress. The parents died young and Herbert was sent to live with relatives, finally settling down in Oregon.

This then is a proletarian beginning for a man who has been described during most of his career as the stereotype of American capitalism. No state aided him. No government supported him.

He was what we today like to call underprivileged, but he was a strong farm boy, sturdy and willing to work, with a sharp mind and a capacity to make his way.

He managed to get enough education to go to what was then called Leland Stanford University and he worked on all sorts of projects, many of his own devising, so that he could pay for his needs.

Typically, he ran a newspaper route and a laundry route and he worked summers for the Geological Survey of the United States.

Thus, Herbert Hoover became a mining engineer. He married a geologist, Lou Henry, and together they set off to work in all parts of the world. His success in his own field and in business was immediate and continuous.

Herbert Hoover got into politics by accident rather than by design. He was the leading American permanently domiciled in London at the outbreak of World War I and was therefore invited by Ambassador Walter Hines Page to assist the large number of American refugees who were stuck in England because of the beginning of war and who had no means to take care of themselves.

He handled this job so ably that he was invited to undertake Belgian Relief. He, who had been a mining engineer, found himself a social worker all of a sudden.

And here the simplicities of Quaker upbringing intervened. Herbert Hoover could tolerate no conflict of interest. When he was working for himself and his family, he did well and amassed a fortune. Now that he faced public service, he felt it essential to divest himself of conflicting assets.

From that day in 1914 when he undertook to serve the people and governments, he avoided private involvements of any kind. Fortunately, he could afford to work without compensation and that he has done ever since.

Hoover was an unpopular President, although he received an enormous vote. The times required him to compromise his judgments and when once or twice he did compromise, particularly with the late Senator Borah, it turned out that he erred. A man who has a philosophy of life, must guide himself according to those principles.

I can recall the days in 1933-4 when Herbert Hoover was sitting often alone in his rooms in the Waldorf-Astoria, avoided by those whom he helped on the road of life. He was a defeated man and the smart boys run from a defeated man.

In contrast today, a quarter of a century later, Herbert Hoover is one of the most beloved men in the nation, above partisanship, above rancor. He continues to work steadily, writing a series of books which will clarify the record of many otherwise uncovered situations.

Herbert Hoover stays young by working and by his constant interest in affairs. At 85, he refuses to give up to doctors, nurses and the impedimenta of age.

He can still argue a point refreshingly, his head full of details and his philosophic viewpoint clear and always guiding constructively. His sense of humor never fails him.

Never one to be vengeful, in his old age he knows no rancor. How he manages to clear the slate of all the little incidents which hurt a man's feelings, I do not understand.

There must be something in early Quaker teaching that does that or perhaps he has grown so big in spirit that the pin-pricks of politics become like the sting of a gnat.

One of the developments of his years in his friendship with Harry Truman: the two ex-Presidents really like each other.

It will be interesting to see Herbert Hoover at the Republican Convention in Chicago in 1960, standing before his Party, delivering his address. His truth goes marching on.

Try and Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

"I know one way to get a raise out of that stingy boss of yours," insisted a nagging wife to her spouse. "Play on his sympathies. Tell him about your nine children the sick mother you have to sit up with two nights a week, and how you have to wash all the dishes because we can't afford a maid."

The husband promised to try. That night the wife demanded, "Did you get that raise?"

"On the contrary," sighed the husband. "The boss fired me. He said I had too many outside activities."

A patient was told by his doctor that an intricate and costly operation was mandatory. "You needn't worry about the cost," said the doctor. "Just pay me two hundred dollars down and fifty a month for the next three years."

"Sounds like buying a car," commented the patient.

"You're right," the doctor assured him. "I am."

An experienced motorist named Harold Coffin gives his own interpretation of highway phenomena:

1. Lots of trucks parked at a drive-in restaurant. The food is terrible, the coffee worse, but there's a beautiful waitress.

2. Car off the road with two punctured tires; the driver cancelled his auto club membership yesterday.

3. Car persistently straddling two lanes on a crowded thruway; the driver's wife can't make up her mind.

4. Beautiful scenery unmarred by billboards; you are on the wrong road!

Mortimer's New York Confidential

By Lee Mortimer

Though films, radio, TV and even night clubs far surpass the legit in numbers of those employed and in earnings of most stars, New York is the last citadel on this continent for that phantasmagoria of the ages, the theatre.

Shubert Alley, a narrow private street running from 44th to 45th, behind the Astor Hotel, is its ventricle. Within a 300-foot radius are some of the most important playhouses, the thrones of most of the theatrical impresarios and mighty agents, and the dining places and haunts of the distinctive, generic folk who compose the gregarious galaxy. Oldtimers, and some stars, still foregather in the Astor Hunting Room. The mart and meeting place for lunch, dinner and after openings is Sardi's.

The youngsters eat at drugstores on Broadway and its feeders. Instead of cocktails they sip cokes and smoke cig-

Jim Riley Says:

Long, Unfruitful Wait For Bus

During last week's vacation we picked up a couple of humorous stories dealing with residents of Monroe County.

The first yarn concerns Mrs. Joe Steele, 98 North Courtland St., East Stroudsburg.

Mrs. Steele, known as Flossie to virtually everyone in the area, has been suffering from a foot injury in recent months. We are glad to report that the injury is well on the mend.

We know the foot is almost well because Flossie waited for a relative from Philadelphia to arrive by bus recently. Flossie stood on the sidewalk on N. Courtland St. for a long time waiting for the out-of-town bus to arrive.

The only catch in the plans was the fact that out-of-town buses haven't been stopping in East Stroudsburg for a long time.

The only out-of-town bus stop in the two boroughs is in Stroudsburg.

Flossie didn't mind the wait too much, but she certainly is suffering a bad case of embarrassment at the present time.

That red face is becoming, Flossie.

Even in tragedy and near-tragedy there is often a note of humor.

As an example, take the recent explosion that ruined the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenney Coss and family near Marshalls Creek.

The explosion ripped the house apart and slightly injured two of the Coss children.

When the first shock of the blast had cleared and it was found that nobody was seriously injured, an almost human-like cry was heard by the firemen and those present to aid the Coss family.

It was discovered that the cry was coming from under a pile of bricks, which had been blasted from the house.

A group of men quickly unpinned the bricks and found a badly scared goat pinned to the ground.

The animal was plenty scared, but otherwise in perfect health. As soon as he was uncovered, the goat dashed briskly to the barn.

He has remained plenty close to the barn ever since that explosion.

East Stroudsburg Little League will attend the New York-Boston baseball game at Yankee Stadium this coming Saturday.

This trip will pull down the curtain on a successful season for the youngsters.

Congratulations are in order for Steve Bakrik, league president, and all other circuit officers and team managers.

The Allen-Scott Report

UAW's Flower Fund

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington — The Senate Labor Rackets Investigating Committee is embarking on those long-talked-about closed-door hearings on the so-called "flower fund" of the United Auto Workers amid a lot of partisan rowing.

This squabbling among the committeemen got so acrid at one meeting that Chairman John McClellan (D., Ark.) walked out in disgust.

Crux of this bitter backstage wrangling is a report compiled by Robert Manuel, Republican counsel of the committee, summarizing a large amount of secret testimony by a number of witnesses making serious charges against high UAW officials — pilfering of union funds, slot machine profiteering, kickbacks and ties with hoodlums and goon squads.

Manuel, with the strong backing of the four Republican committeemen, has flatly refused to show this report to the Democrats—including McClellan, whose vote with the GOP launched this dynamite-loaded probe.

Last week Manuel became so leery of the Democrats that he removed all copies of the report from his files in the Senate Office Building and hid them in his home. He did this after being told the Democrats intended to ransack his office for his secret report.

Behind this partisan feuding is a GOP plan for a sweeping investigation of political spending by AFL-CIO unions.

To trigger such a general probe, the Republicans, with McClellan's support, have centered their fire on the UAW's "flower fund." Reputedly totaling more than $1 million this special fund was set up to help pay funeral expenses of the union's members. While all of them are required to contribute to this "flower fund," the amount varies with the locals.

Charges have been made to the Senate investigators that UAW officials used this money to support candidates, and for other political activities.

For more than four months Manuel has been digging up evidence on this. These findings will first be examined by the committee at its impending closed-door hearings and then aired in public sessions.

On the outcome of these proceedings determine whether to go further — as the Republicans vigorously favor.

ings the Committee will

What The Report Charges— Illustrative of the explosive nature of Manuel's secret report are the following excerpts:

"Witness No. 1: A former local official who will testify that union representatives had to kick back $87 every two weeks to X, and that the latter would fine all members who did not report to work on the union's farm when ordered to do so by him. These fines went to X."

"Witness No. 2: Another former official of this local and once X's confidant who will produce and identify kited invoices and slot machine slips showing that X took one-half of the receipts although the machines were union property. This witness will also testify about compulsory kickbacks of union members to X's personal 'flower fund.'"

"Witness No. 3: Another former local official and confidant of X who will testify about being beaten up by his henchmen when he rebelled at X's personal 'flower fund.' Also how X appropriated for his own use furniture purchased with union funds."

At one committee clash over this secret report, Senator John Kennedy (D., Mass.) hotly demanded the Democrats be allowed to see it prior to the scheduled hearings.

He was supported on this by Senators McClellan, Sam Ervin (D., N.C.) and Frank Church (D., Iowa).

"How do you expect us to take part in hearings when we haven't the slightest idea what they're based on?" contended Kennedy. "In all our other investigations counsel has kept Committee members fully informed so they knew what was taking place. Why should this be an exception? Why isn't that being done in this instance?"

"Because many of the witnesses who appear in this report fear for their lives," replied Senator Karl Mundt (R., S.D.). "If this investigative report should fall into the hands of the wrong people the lives of these witnesses would be in jeopardy."

"In other words," exploded McClellan, "you don't trust the chairman of this committee with your report. I must say that is a fine state of affairs. I am refused a copy of this report. The committee's chief counsel (Robert Kennedy) has been refused a copy. And the other Democratic members of the committee have been denied it. So here we sit, completely in the dark and only you people know what is going on."

"We have taken the responsibility for the lives of these witnesses," asserted Mundt. "They agreed to testify only if we kept their identity secret until they have appeared before this committee. That is why we must keep this report secret until then. And we propose to do that to the utmost of our ability."

"That stops me," snorted McClellan. "I give up."

With that, the committee chairman rose and angrily stalked from the chamber.

Mundt's stand was heartily supported by Senators Barry Goldwater (R., Ariz.) Carl Curtis (R., Neb.) and Homer Capehart (R., Ind.).

There has been much controversy over the power of the critics. In New York, these down professional reviewers are a jury, voting the fate of many men and women, who are on the defensive. But there is no presumption of innocence, and there are no attorneys to plead for the accused.

Dear Abby: What would you think of a married man who would take another man's wife and travel through 11 states with her and pass her off as his wife? That's what my husband did.

I married this man seven years ago. I took his two babies by a previous marriage when they were 11 and 22 months old. I worked every day I was married to him to help meet our bills.

When he pulled this trick, I divorced him. Now he is back begging me to remarry him. His sister, who has been married five times, keeps his kids. I feel sorry for the kids, but I don't think I could ever trust him again. What would you do, Abby?

Dear Abby: I have a neighbor who borrows my cake pans, pie tins, salad bowls etc., and never returns them. Right now she has more of my pans and bowls than I have.

We are good friends and trade favors, such as watching each other's kids and marketing for each other. But this doesn't help me get my stuff back.

I am not the nifty type. Can you suggest a way for me to get my property back without offending her?

Dear No: If you have one pie tin or cake pan left, bake something you know she likes and take it over to her. Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Never count a day lost until it's all over. Certainly yesterday was a dismal day for saying goodbyes. Yet it seemed that all morning long I was shooting people out through the rain and standing at the window waving, with their windshield wipers waving back at me as cars took off for various points of the compass.

I was quite prepared to spend the afternoon feeling sorry for myself. Working on Sunday afternoon quite often has that effect, even without worrying about driving conditions and the drip of rain down the window to make it worse.

It was sort of hard to maintain the air of gentle melancholy, however, when, having tracked down the Muffleys to the home of their daughter, Mrs. LeRoy Hagerty, we were greeted by a tame Bob White. Tame as a chicken, he is and loves parakeet seed.

And inside there was a mother cat with six toes and two of her kittens with six toes, too. Anyway I was quite chirped up and the Muffley story turned out to be a most writeable one.

Moreover, a whole crowd of delightful young people turned up at the office to include me on an expedition to the river so that the rain, by that time, seemed merely a gentle and easy way of getting the lawn watered, and I'm sure the sky was getting brighter and the mist was moving up the mountain.

Since then, I've been to busy to brood. Of course if I hurry there's still some brooding time left before midnight. But maybe instead I'd better concentrate on the moral of this ditty which is: Don't make up your mind to be miserable until it's really necessary.

P.S.: Besides I've just remembered, there's one nephew left over to keep me company.

The Muffleys Who Met On A Fishing Trip Have Trout For 53rd Anniversary

It was during a fishing trip that they met and yesterday, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Muffley, who live near Neola, had a fine trout dinner for their 53rd wedding anniversary. But a lot had happened in between.

Mrs. Muffley is the former Stella Dunlap, daughter of Mr. Paradise Valley and that's where she met the young Charles Muffley, who was then working at the Paradise Fish Hatchery.

He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Muffley and was born in Carbon County. Later the family moved to Monroe County, and he has the distinction of having helped to build the school he later attended.

Built School He Attended

He was 13 when he worked on the Kresgeville School which he later attended for two terms. Later he worked for the Penn Forest Fish Hatchery before going to work for the Paradise Fish Hatchery. In 1906, he began working for the Lackawanna Railroad, retiring after 39 years.

He has not retired from fishing, however, as evidenced by the trout he caught for their anniversary dinner. He also is an ardent hunter, having killed his buck every year but one since 1907. Gardening also remains as one of his enthusiasms. In fact he now operates three gardens.

As a matter of fact, he recalls that he helped with the haying on the afternoon of their wedding day. They were married in the parsonage of Rev. Mr. Goss in Tannersville on a day which started out very much like yesterday but which cleared enough in the afternoon to get on with the haying.

They lived in East Stroudsburg for much of their married life, but now are settled in the country.

They have five children: Mrs. LeRoy Hagerty of Poplar Valley, Stanley Muffley, East Stroudsburg, Jesse Muffley, Poplar Valley; Charles Muffley Jr., East Stroudsburg, and Mrs. Lillian Gordon, wife of Arthur Gordon of North Fifth Street. They also have ten grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Fish Dish Is Rainy-Day Special

By Cecily Brownstone
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor
Not quite a soup, not quite a stew, but a cross between the two. Borrowed from both New England and Finland—to be enjoyed anywhere. We call this fish dish our rainy-day special because it's perfect to enjoy for lunch or supper in front of the fireplace.

Make the dish with the fish your husband or best beau catches this summer or with the more prosaic sort from your market. But be sure to use fish that is firm of flesh, that doesn't go to pieces when it really feels the heat of the kettle. This is a main dish so you want it to have substance. There should be large filling chunks of fish into which you can sink your teeth.

With the fish go potatoes, onion, celery, bacon, milk, and that belongs to the New England way with a chowder. Its intriguing flavor comes from the Finnish manner of adding fresh dill to a fish-and-potato soup. If you live in the city, try to find some real country dill; the housewife variety, often sold in urban markets, usually lacks flavor.

Pull up a table in front of the hearth. Add crusty bread and seeded rolls plus bread sticks. Get out your best tureen if you like, or bring on the fish dish in the kettle in which it was cooked. Our recipe serves four; you may double it if you feel your eaters will want seconds or if there are eight persons to feed.

All you need to add to your main course is a big bowl of salad greens; nix them, if you wish, with strips of cheese, chicken and ham; or with hard-boiled eggs, anchovies and tomatoes. For dessert on this menu we like a luscious fresh fruit tart.

Rainy Day Special

Ingredients: 1 slow bacon, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1/4 cup chopped onion, 1/3 cup celery, 2 cups (1 pound) diced potatoes, 2 cups water, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/8 teaspoon white pepper, 1 pound firm-fleshed thick (fresh or frozen) fish filets, 1 cup milk or light cream, 2 1/2 teaspoons minced dill.

Method: In a wide-bottomed kettle, cook bacon until crisp; remove. Add butter and onion to bacon drippings; slowly cook onion until golden; remove. Add celery, potatoes, water and half the salt and pepper to kettle; simmer, covered, until potatoes are tender. Arrange fish (thawed if frozen) over vegetables and liquid; sprinkle fish with remaining salt and pepper. Simmer, covered, until fish is opaque through—this may take only 5 minutes; do not overcook. Break fish into large chunks in kettle. Add milk, dill, reserved bacon and onion; reheat very slowly; do not boil. Serve in wide soup plates. Makes 4 servings.

Note: Halibut is perfect for this recipe.

The secret must have power because this is a marriage that has worked for 53 years. Mr. Muffley may still go fishing but for Mrs. Muffley he caught her man that way but now she prefers her flowers and her recipes — o' yes, and cooking the fish he catches.

Off they go with a fresh-clean glow!

Mom can be rightly proud of her youngsters when she sees them so happily trotting off to school in freshly cleaned clothes. Don't they look wonderful? All set to get an A for grooming. Have their clothes cleaned here, regularly.

Frank S. Krystniak of Perkasee was best man. Ushers were Richard Rader, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Guillem Maddock of Scranton and David Grant of Ashland, cousin of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a gown of silk organza with a basque waist and neckline of re-empholdered Alencon lace and a full chapel sweet train with Alencon motifs on the skirt. Her headpiece was an orange blossom crown to hold her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion.

The maid of honor wore a pink ballerina gown of embroidered flowers with a scoop neckline and large picture hat with velvet streamers. The bridesmaids wore similar gown in ballet green with matching picture hats. The flower girl wore a short pink dress of nylon sheer with a sash and a large bow and wore a headpiece of a soft bow.

A reception was held at the Blue Valley Farm Building.

ROUND AND ABOUT WYCKOFFS—

The Nazzos have enjoyed several very busy and successful days at Wyckoff's, and have enabled hundreds of Monroe Counties to glitter as never before with zircons, sapphires, and other semi-precious gems from their collection. During their stay, I became better acquainted with Mr. Nazzo, as a result of having him on the radio program—but his wife, Pat, is, I think, one of the prettiest and most charming girls ever to visit our store. We are happy that their visit has been prolonged a few days. . . . From Amy Blaisdel comes a Rubinstein publicity note advising me that right here at Wyckoff's we have some very special August buys on "Rubinstein Pairs". For instance, when you buy a Rubinstein cosmetic now, you are given some coordinated beauty aid. With Deep Clanser you have a choice of either Herbal Skin Lotion or Pasteurized Face Cream, et cetera. In all there are eight money-saving combinations, all of them very important to the thrifty customer. See them today in our Wyckoff cosmetic department and save up to 50% on world-renowned Helena Rubinstein beauty aids. . . . Ruthie Jacobson, daughter of Edith and Morris, stops by our store to chat with Dottie Dunn at the switchboard, and those of us in advertising, Ruthie loves Wyckoff's, but admits she was somewhat perturbed to learn the price of Bobbey Twin books. They are, she feels, a bit expensive. I didn't have the heart to tell her she probably will never find hard-bound copies such as we offer here, at a lower price. It's a delight to me to see today's children still interested in the Bobbey twins whom I loved so much thirty-five years ago, and to also read that Walt Disney has just signed a little English actress to play the role of my beloved Pollyanna in a movie about "the glad girl" . . . Sandy Wyckoff (Holt's daughter) visits the store accompanied by the only dog of my acquaintance with a MIDDLE name. Sandy's dog is Buttons Marie Wyckoff, and her cat is Priscilla Ann . . . And David Wyckoff, Pete's son, is keeping the family dinner table supplied with home made ice cream these days, having just acquired a very efficient toy freezer in our Wyckoff toy department. As his mother tells it, the ice cream isn't bad at all—but there's usually a lot of cleaning up to be done in the kitchen after a batch is made. . . . Mention of toys reminds us that Ernie Michelfelder, head of our toy department, is now a grandfather to young Russell Kelly Sharbaugh. Ernie loves being grandpa, but can't bear the thought of being married to a grandmother. . . . It is good to see our Indian wavers back again. Julia and Filomena are charming girls, shy, pleasant, and intensely conscientious, and we regret that the language barrier keeps us from becoming really good friends. You can watch them weaving on their primitive stick looms in our Wyckoff fabrics department. . . . After a long period of absence, artist Peter Heiden suddenly appears in our advertising department, with the exciting information that he's off once again on a painting trip to Maine. The result will probably be many more of those beautiful paintings for our Wyckoff tea room. . . . One glance at the calendar, and you are reminded that soon comes Labor Day and back to school! Which means that now's a good time to keep your eyes on the fashion racks of Wyckoff's and begin planning wardrobes.

Price Points Out Advantages Of Ford's Select-O-Speed

CLUTCHLESS shifting is here now for owners of the new Ford Select-O-Speed tractors, now available at Raymond Price Sr. Select-O-Speed is the greatest advance in tractor operation since the introduction of hydraulics. Plow up to 27 percent more by eliminating stops, by plowing at a higher speed, by making better time.

soil conditions the more Select-O-Speed pays off. Starting off a heavy load is accomplished with a low speed and allows shifting without hesitation in a smooth, unbroken line. You can downshift for grades or rough ground and up again on-the-go.

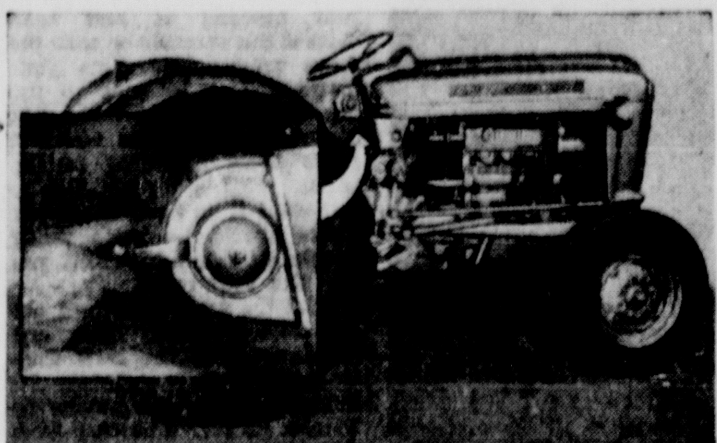

Solid Drive
Control is maintained by a simple flick of a finger on the control quadrant. Select-

O-Speed provides "solid drive" in all speeds at all times... no power loss or wasted fuel due to slippage.

Ford's 10 speeds forward make it easy for you to choose the right combination of tractor speed and power for your job.

Get all the facts on the new Ford Select-O-Speed Tractors from Raymond Price, Inc., in Cresco. Your present tractor should more than cover the down payment.

TWO ADVANTAGES for tractor operators are to be found in Ford's new Select-O-Speed transmission. First is operator convenience. Using only the small selector lever (shown in insert), the tractor operator can shift to or through any of ten forward and two reverse gears without stopping and without using a clutch pedal. Second advantage is the greater efficiency and economy resulting from easy selection of exactly the right gear for every job. Raymond Price, Inc., Cresco, is the local dealer.

It's Easy To Lay Tile With Sears' Rubberlocks

LAYING FLOOR TILE is now as easy as playing with blocks with a new interlocking rubber tile.

Each of the new tiles is one-eighth-inch thick, measures nine by nine inches and has edges that dovetail with the edges of the adjacent tiles. Because of the firm holding power of this interlocking feature, there is no need for the use of any adhesive to bond the tile to the floor. When installed wall-to-wall the tiles will never slip or shift.

The new tile can be moved easily at any time and the design pattern can be changed by simply rearranging the tiles. Since no adhesive is used, if a tile should ever become damaged, it can be removed and replaced without disturbing the rest of the floor.

Called Harmony House "Rubberlock" floor tile the new floor covering is made up essentially of natural and synthetic rubber fortified by certain other synthetics which add durability, lasting luster and brilliant color. The rubber itself helps reduce foot fatigue by cushioning every step. It can be waxed or polished in the same manner as any rubber floor tile.

Available in an assortment of Harmony House "go together" colors, the new interlocking tile is offered exclusively by Sears, Roebuck and Co.

Local Sears Floorcovering Dept. Manager Shimer Kublik will be happy to give you further information on this new product.

Watch Those Shorties!
LONDON (AP)—Mrs. Doreen More-Jones was given three months in jail Thursday after Policeman Gordon Pillow testified she bit his finger, kneed him and tried to strangle him with his tie when he arrested her for assault. Mrs. More-Jones is 5 feet tall, weighs 112 pounds. Pillow is 6 feet 5 inches tall, weighs 196.

Added Features
The Dauphine is a four-door sedan with many plus features not offered in any other car. To get to the spare tire, one need not even open the trunk.

A high efficiency heater is included on all models as are turn signals. One delightful little extra is the town and country horn. A flip of the switch gives a soft town signal while the other position gives a loud road clearing command.

Engine and exhaust noises are in the rear as that is where the engine is. No heat at your feet and all exhaust gases are carried off to the rear; no fumes ever.

To learn more about the Renault Dauphine, stop in at Barrett Auto Service, Post Office Building, Mountainhome.

Algerians Grow
PARIS (AP)—The Algerian population of Paris is about 110,000 making it the third largest Algerian city — exceeded only by Algiers and Oran, Algeria. Most Algerians here are unskilled laborers living in officially run hostels accommodating 12,000 and otherwise crowded into small hotel rooms and so-called Bidonvilles — shantytowns — on the outskirts.

Spread-On Covers Many Surfaces

IF YOUR building or home is stucco, brick, asbestos shingle or masonry surface, here's the answer to a durable, smart looking finish that will look fresh and stay new looking for years. It's famous Spread Glide-On, manufactured by the Glidden people and now available at Fetherman's Paint Store.

Spread Glide-On is an exterior vinyl latex paint and is available in beautiful pastels and deeper shades, plus attractive let-downs that can be easily made by intermixing Spread Glide-On colors with tinting white.

Spread Glide-On gives you the same properties you have enjoyed with Spread Satin inside your home. Goes on twice as fast as ordinary masonry finishes. Can be brushed, rolled or sprayed. Dries in minutes, completely dust free, to a beautiful, durable, suede-like finish.

Surface Breathes
It keeps out moisture, yet the surface "breathes" to let vapor escape from inside, preventing blistering, completely resistant to the alkalinity usually found in asbestos shingles and masonry.

The tough vinyl latex film of Spread Glide-On resists, driving rains, hottest sunshine, mildew, snow and ice, sea air and salt dust and chemical fumes. Col-water spray, strongest smog, or will not fade — they stay bright, new-looking after ordinary finishes grow weak and dull. Resists cracking, peeling, blistering, acid and alkali action.

Spread Glide-On is another product of the Glidden Co., makers of the famous Spread Satin... and is available in Stroudsburg at Fetherman's Paint Store... 1016 W. Main St.

Dauphines Restore Ease To Driving

LOOKING for the "old thrill" of driving? Enthusiastic owners of the smart little Renault Dauphine are finding that "Driving is fun again" in a Renault. The reasons are endless... economy... ease of handling... ease of parking, etc.

Take economy for instance: the Dauphine gets up to 40 miles per gallon of gas... change the oil, a mere 2 1/4 quarts do the job.

Ease of handling on the open road or in downtown traffic is a "snap"... you move around with unbelievable ease. Parking is accomplished with untold ease.

Buy Pool On Time Payments

THERE'S still lots of hot weather ahead, and for those who have been thinking about a home swimming pool, what better time than now to get that pool in and have fun. You can do it now in a matter of about 48 man hours of work-time.

According to D. Katz & Sons, local dealers for Cascade "Buster Crabbe" model Utilized Pools pool ownership is as easy as buying a TV set or car and is fast ranking along side of those items in popularity.

Utilization, to put it simply, is a process that does away with custom pool building at the home site. Instead, it permits the pool to be constructed at the factory by a technique similar to the assembly line methods employed by the auto and appliance industries.

Utilization utilizes walls of standardized 16-foot lengths, which are shipped direct to the pool site, then merely bolted together in the excavation. When the panels are in, the bottom of the pool is graded from 3 1/2 feet to 7 1/2 feet at the diving end.

The next step is the installation of the vinyl plastic liner and the connection of the pump and filtration system. The pool sides are then backfilled, and the pool is filled with water... ready for the first swim!

The manufacturers who engineered the Utilization process, Cascade Pools, Trenton, N. J., makers of "Buster Crabbe" Swimming Pools, claim that Utilized Pools can be installed in a matter of 48-man hours or less.

Pool prices start as low as $1295. D. Katz & Sons Swimming Pool Division quote a price on a Buster Crabbe pool for your lot.

Ideas On Variety Of Home Projects Given By Cramer

ACCORDING TO SURVEYS, most homes lack proper storage areas for household articles, cleaning equipment, canned goods and the like.

R. C. Cramer Lumber Co. offers a few thoughts on the subject. Neat-looking, movable shell units are an asset in any home, whether they are used for canned goods, storage toys, laundry equipment, or other purposes.

Each unit may be made any desired height, and there may be any number of shelves, depending on how far apart they are spaced.

A handy width for shelving, which offers good support, is a width of three inches, however according to the material used, this can be varied to fit your needs.

There is a variety of fittings and brackets available for controlling the height of shelves and fastening the min place.

There's another versatile material which does a thousand jobs and yet takes up little space. It is Pegboard, a Masonite product with holes spaced equal distance apart.

A variety of metal hangers are available as brackets for hanging hammers, saws, garden tools and the like.

Before you start your shelving or storage project, a visit to R. C. Cramer's may save you unnecessary work and give you a better job. See them soon for your do it yourself project!

Dairy Show Changes Listed For Greene-Dreher Fair

NEWFOUNDLAND — Several changes in the dairy showing for this year's Greene-Dreher-Sterling Community Fair scheduled for September 2 to 5 have been noted by Clayton Northup, fair official.

Dairy cattle divisions this year are as follows: junior calf, one to six months of age; senior calf, six to 12 months; junior yearling, 12 to 18 months; senior yearling, 18 months to two years; cow, two to three years; cow, three to four years; cow, over four years.

The sub-division in cattle from one to two years of age will give a better grouping in age and size for better and more fair competition, he notes.

Age of the animal is determined by January 1 and July 1 dates.

OFF THE RECORD

By Bob Clark
Sports Editor

WE THOUGHT we had heard them all but the last Mike and Ike moth-eaten one. However we latched on to another yesterday. This concerns Keith Edinger, the former East Stroudsburg High line stalwart who now bucks advertisers for the Daily Record.

It seems brother Edinger has gone in for economy on a big scale. So much in fact that he purchased one of those small cars that will take you across the U.S. on a gallon of gas.

Well Edinger must have believed what he heard about these money-saving vehicles. Anyway he tried to go through a day's roadwork on the petrol within. What happened? You guessed it, Edinger ran out of gas. We heard though that he only purchased a quarter's worth of gas. That's carrying this economy move a little too far, Keith.

Imagine T. Manning (Cap) Curtis' legion of friends will be happy to know the Stroudsburg High director of athletics is beating his recent bout with illness.

Curtis has been on the sick list for a month. But a steady diet which disintegrated many of the adipose tissues have helped him to get back in shape. The sickness forced Cap and his lovely missus to bypass their annual vacation to Curtis' fatherland up Massachusetts way.

Bruce Possinger, president of the Monroe County Softball League settled a dispute when Tobyhanna balked against playing Nebel's Market Friday night at the Stroudsburg playground field.

The Signaleers, who had several of their key performers playing with Twin City in the state softball run-offs, attempted to get another League team to play the Market on Friday.

But prexy Possinger said no soap. Earlier this week Possinger had to revise his slate to get in postponed games and even out other teams' schedule problems.

Possinger felt that the Tobyhanna players when they signed to play with Twin City knew that they couldn't disrupt his loop just for the sake of a few.

Anyway Tobyhanna went through with their regular game with Nebel's and apparently the loop is running on a harmonious note again.

Dick Everitt, regular Stroudsburg High quarterback the past two seasons, will enroll at Williamsport Technical Institute in the Fall.

Everitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Everitt (he's the Stroud Union school director) will make final plans today for his schooling.

Doug Metzgar, East Stroudsburg High basketball player, may enter the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. in 1960 if present plans go through.

If the appointment is available it couldn't happen to a nicer boy.

Doug, who will enter his senior year at Eastburg this Fall, is the son of Happy and Dolly Metzgar.

Twin City Wins State Majors Softball Crown

Tchorz, Drach Collaborate On Hill For Four Triumphs

SPECIAL TO DAILY RECORD

ALTOONA—Twin City TV of Stroudsburg, motivated by the spectacular pitching of Joe Drach and Stan Tchorz, swept to the championship of the Keystone Amateur Softball Association Major Tournament yesterday.

Playing two games Saturday and a pair yesterday, the Videomen shot through four consecutive foes, officially claiming the title yesterday by topping Browns-ville, 1-0.

By winning, Twin City gained the right to represent the state of Pennsylvania in the International Softball Championships at Long Beach, Cal., the latter part of this month. Teams from all over the United States and five foreign countries will vie for the world's softball title in the Far Coast classic.

Drach and Tchorz split the four triumphs Saturday and Sunday. Drach beat Altoona, 2-0, Saturday, and Tchorz downed Tyrone, 9-0 Saturday night.

Yesterday it was Drach clinching the third straight game, turning back Philadelphia, 5-1, and Tchorz, with pitching aid from Drach in the final two innings, nailed down the pen-nants, whitewashing defending champions, Brownsville, 1-0.

All told the two masterful moundmen held the opposition to a mere six hits during their four game stints.

Twin City, enjoying two years of great softball success via two straight East Penn Softball League championships and the state title of the KASA Class A tourney last year, were never in better form. Combining timely hitting with airtight pitching, the Stroudsburg-based team were in command throughout.

Sunday, Drach moved the locals into the finals of the double-elimination event when he tossed a two-hitter at Philadelphia and Twin City roared to a 5-1 win. The Tvers got six hits to go with their six in the opener and seven in the second game to run their three-game hit total to 19.

Tchorz, named the tournament's most valuable pitcher, joined with Drach in the final to two-hit Brownsville for a 1-0 Stroudsburg triumph. Twin City gathered five safeties in the finale.

Drach got Twin City off and running in their opening game of the three-day tournament Saturday when he hurled his mates to a 2-0 victory over Altoona. The unorthodox TV flipper allowed only one hit and was complete master all the way.

Tchorz followed up this mound masterpiece Saturday night when he one-hitTED Tyrone as the Videomen chalked up an easy 9-0 triumph.

The Scranton chucker, an East Stroudsburg State Teachers graduate, started fast and ended up fast, turning the Northwestern Pennsylvanians back at every turn.

Tigers' 4-Run Rally In 9th Downs Bosox

BOSTON (AP)—Detroit defeated Boston 7-3 Sunday in a hectic ninth inning featuring key blows by Harvey Kuenn and Gus Zernial plus Paul Foytack's clutch one-pitch relief.

Foytack preserved southpaw Don Mossi's 11th triumph of the year by retiring Gene Stephens on a long foul drive to left with two out and the bases loaded.

Johnny Groth made a leaping catch against the high wall supporting the left field bleachers to get the Tigers out of danger and help snap a four-game Red Sox winning streak.

In the top of the ninth, Detroit had shattered a 3-3 deadlock.

Ted Lepcio, a former Red Sox pitcher, started the Tigers on the road with a single. After Mossi fanned, Eddie Yost singled. With two out Kuenn, the American League's leading batsman who had been retired his first four trips, made it 5-4 on a smash off the left field wall.

Dykes Counters
After Al Kaline drew an intentional pass to fill the bases, Boston sent Leo Kiely to relieve starter Tom Brewer, Tiger Manager Jimmy Dykes countered by recalling Charlie Maxwell from the batters circle and sent up Zernial to pinchhit. Yanks Win 2 Extra-Inning Games From A's, 4-3, 3-2

NEW YORK (AP)—Elston Howard's home run in the 11th inning gave the New York Yankees a 3-2 second game triumph and a sweep of Sunday's doubleheader over the Kansas City Athletics. Gil McDougald's bases-loaded single in the 14th inning drove in the winning run in the 4-3 victory in the opener.

The Yankees had to come from behind in each game. They trailed 3-0 in the first game, but tied the score at 3-3 with two unearned runs in the fourth inning and one in the eighth.

Kansas City led 2-1 with two out in the ninth inning of the second game but Yogi Berra slammed his 15th homer of the season and 300th of his major league career to tie the score at 2-2.

Bobby Shantz, who relieved Eli Gribb in the ninth, was credited with the victory. It was his seventh against three defeats. Dickson's record now is 2-1.

Ryne Duren gained the victory in the first game. The ace reliever hurled six runless innings, giving up three hits and striking out six.

Olmedo, 3 Others On Davis Cup

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Three members of the U.S. Davis Cup team who brought back the famed tennis trophy from Australia last winter and one experienced newcomer were named Sunday to defend the cup in the challenge round at Forest Hills, N.Y., Aug. 28-30.

They are Alex Olmedo, the one-man team from Peru who almost single-handedly beat the Australians; Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio; 18-year-old Earl Buchholz of St. Louis and Bernard (Tut) Barten of Dallas, the newcomer.

James B. Moffett of San Francisco, chairman of the Davis Cup Selection Committee, said a fifth player will be chosen sometime prior to Aug. 18.

Kunkletown Atop PM Via Victory

KUNKLETOWN moved temporarily into first place in the Pocono Mountain Baseball League yesterday as rain wiped out four circuit duels. In the only game played, Kunkletown soaked Bushkill, 18-5, to go half a game ahead of Tannersville.

Games postponed were Ananilmok at Reeders, Saylorsburg at Lehigh, Tannersville at Barrett, and West End at Eastern Pocono.

With Dean Leslie hurling three-hit ball for seven innings before giving way to Meekes and Berger, Kunkletown blew to a 5-1 lead in five frames and then built up on the bulge with a five-run sixth and six-tally eighth.

Serfas Belts Two
Berger, with five-for-six, and Dick Serfas with two homers and a single for a perfect day, guided the 16-hit Kunkletown assault on losing pitcher Dick Hickman and his reliever Curt Hickman.

Curt Hickman was the best hitter for the losers with a double and a pair of one-baggers.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Gene Conley and Jim Owens, a pair of big right-handers, Sunday pitched the last-place Philadelphia Phillies to a doubleheader over St. Louis, 8-3 and 4-2, putting a crimp in the Cardinals first division hopes.

Conley, now 11-7, turned in a steady 7-hitter and singled home the winning run in the eighth inning of the first game. Ed Bouchee's grand slam home run led it in the ninth.

Owens, making his record 8-9, got a big assist from 39-year-old Dave Philley, whose pinch single broke a 2-2 tie in the ninth.

Moore-Durelle Rematch Set For Wednesday At Montreal

Associated Press Sports Writer
ANCIENT ARCHIE MOORE'S twice-postponed rematch with Yvon Durelle finally will be held Wednesday in the Montreal Forum.

If the second fight comes close to their first meeting in Montreal, Dec. 10, it will be well worth watching. That was the night old Archie got off the floor four times and finally knocked out the Canadian in the 11th round.

2 Postponements
Archie had to ask for one postponement because of a training injury. That set the fight back from July 15 to July 29. When Moore's wife underwent a serious operation in San Diego, he hustled home to force a second postponement.

The 15-round lightweight title scrap will be carried on network (ABC) television with Canada and the United States.

3 And Alternate
Each team is composed of three contestants and an alternate. The regulars must compete in each of the five events—cross-country riding, fencing, pistol shooting, swimming and cross-country running. The test is modeled after the skills required of a military courier in hostile territory.

Novikov, a 30-year-old physical instructor, compiled 4,924 points in the games last year in Aldershot, England, for the best individual effort in modern pentathlon history. He is strong in swimming, fencing and riding.

da and United States border cities near Montreal blacked out. In a year when champions are falling right and left, Moore still is favored to repeat last winter's victory. However, if Durelle clips him like he did in December, the champ will be in for another rough evening.

Since 1968
Archie has held the crown since 1962 when he whipped Joey Maxim. He has defended it successfully seven times. The record books say Archie has a 175-24-6 record for 265 pro fights.

Durelle, an awkward free-swinging from Baile Ste. Anne, N.B., has been in action once since he lost to Moore. The fighting fisherman knocked out Teddy Burns May 12. His record is 73-2-2 and he has contested 100 fights. He holds the Canadian and British Empire light heavyweight titles.

Club Championship
Go.f professional Walt Thiel announced that club championship play will get under way Sept. 1. This year the tournament will be medal play, he said.

Lee Captures Jr. Golf Title
PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—Sander Larry Lee took the National Junior golf championship home to Spokane Sunday after beating the nation's finest teen-agers in seven sun-blistered rounds over the exacting Stanford course.

The 17-year-old staged a grueling battle with Michael J. McMahon, 16, of Atlanta in their final match Saturday, and won 2 up after the rangy Southerner almost closed in on him at the finish.

"Luck was on my side all the way," Lee said as he was presented the championship cup. "Some of those breaks could have gone either way."

Lee will be 18 before the next Junior National and ineligible to defend his championship. The tournament is limited to youngsters between ages 12 and 17.

Russians Favored In Pentathlon

HARRISBURG (AP)—Russia will lead with the same three aces in the 1960 world modern pentathlon championship that it used to win the 1958 title.

They are Alexander Tarasov, Nikolai Tatrinov and Igor Novikov. The latter is favored to retain the individual title he captured the last two years.

The five-sport competition will be held for the first time in North America Sept. 25-30 in the Harrisburg-Hershey area.

Challenging the Soviet defenders will be teams from Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Finland, Great Britain, Hungary, Italy, Mexico, Sweden, Switzerland, Tunisia, West Germany and the United States.

Aussie Netmen Erase Italians

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Wimbledon champions Neale Fraser and Roy Emerson sent Australia into the Inter-Zone Davis Cup finals against India Sunday with a ragged, water-jogged doubles victory over Italy's Nicola Pietrangeli and Orlando Sirola 3-6, 11-9, 6-3, 9-7.

The triumph gave Captain Harry Hopman's charges an insurmountable 3-0 lead in the best-of-five series between the American and European Zone champions and put an exhibition status on Monday's finals singles.

Water Gap Chamber Lists New Officers

DELAWARE WATER GAP—The first annual balloting for officers of the Delaware Water Gap Chamber of Commerce was held at the regular session recently.

The new slate of officers elected were Layton Osborne, president; Guyton Kemper, vice president; Stephen Matos, secretary; Allan Hartzell, assistant secretary; Ernest Birsner, treasurer, and Dr. David Shulman, Mrs. Louise Brandy and Fernon Albert as directors.

A vote of thanks was given all officers outgoing, and the chamber included a resolution to continue their work.

A motion was passed to "vigorously oppose the proposed Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad plan to discontinue the westbound 5:56 p.m. and the eastbound 8:45 a.m. trains out of East Stroudsburg on the basis that the economy of the entire Delaware Water Gap-Stroudsburg area will be dealt a drastic setback in their efforts to increase the participation of industry in this area."

The effects of the loss of train service to the borough of Delaware Water Gap are still in evidence in this area, the chamber reported.

Copies Of Motion
Copies of this motion will be forwarded to the Pennsylvania Utility Commission, Interstate Commerce Commission and state legislators informing them of this opposition, the chamber reported.

The chamber also passed a motion to "notify our state legislators of our opposition to the legislative bill before them to require all county real estate to be assessed at 60 percent of the estimated fair market value. The chamber opposes this bill on the basis that it would serve no good purpose, but may, in fact, result in harm by causing a relaxation in the present tight control over expenditures and lead to loose and excessive expenditures by the various taxing districts."

Copies of this resolution will also be forwarded to the legislators, the chamber reported.

It was reported to the chamber that members of Alpha Phi Omega fraternity, of Lafayette University, have checked and renewed the Appalachian Trail and have removed all loose debris from the trail.

Former standing committee have been disbanded, and only two standing committees are left. The Community Development Committee, under Harold Crowsdale, and the Tourist Promotional Committee under M. E. Leffler.
